

Group of Activities around the world are heading to Palestine to Mark the 36th Anniversary of Palestinian Land scheduled to take place on 30

th of march 2012 in Palestine.

Some of the activists, Press TV website reports, have already started arriving in the Al-Quds for the marching and they will be joined by more peace activists as the day approaches.

The global march to Al-Quds Initiative will also be conducted in front of Israel embassies in some countries as well as demonstrations in other squares of some countries.

Israel, with the support of US and western countries, continues to occupy the Palestinian Land for decades- an occupation characterised by killings of innocents and destructions of land which continued to draw condemnation from freedom lovers globally on the Zionist regime.
